Reed Bros. have done their part to furnish you with the best seed possible, but in common with all responsible seedsmen we do not in any way guarantee, or give our agents permission to guarantee, the resulting crop on any seeds that we send out, for this depends partly upon conditions of the soil, climate and weather. Prices subject to change without notice. Orders booked subject to prior sale. Cabbage seed sent postpaid. Field seed f.o.b. Cortland, N. Y.

January 1962

Dear Friend:

Once again it is a pleasure to send you a copy of our general catalog describing the latest in high quality cabbage and farm seeds.

One or two new varieties have become available since the catalog was printed. The new Cayuga Alfalfa, developed at Cornell, is a high yielding, fast growing variety similar to DuPuits, but with a longer production life. Cayuga is resistant to bacterial wilt and has good tolerance to common leaf spotting diseases. DuPuits is still the heaviest yielding strain, but Narragansett is very highly recommended because of its wide adaptability even on problem soils.

The severe lodging of practically all oats in 1961 can be blamed mostly on adverse weather conditions. There seemed to be little difference among the three standard varieties--Garry, Oneida and Rodney. These are recommended for 1962, but extreme care should be used in buying only good germinating, high quality seed. Our stocks of certified seed will please the most discriminating buyer.

The new Glory 61, Y. R. cabbage is again available, but the supply is limited. The severe blighting conditions which plagued the 1961 crop were probably due to weather conditions. Where cabbage yellows is not a problem, we still strongly urge you to plant the more rugged Reed's Improved Glory.

When you order and use Reeds Seeds you can rest assured that you are investing in the best seeds that money can buy, and at reasonable prices. This reputation has been built and maintained year after year over the past 53 years in which we have supplied you, our discerning customers with your planting needs. It will be a pleasure to serve you again in 1962.

Cordially yours,

Reed Bros.
